A message from Mayor Mike Duggan

Over the past several years, the City of Detroit has worked hard to develop a growing list of programs specifically designed to help Detroiters improve their quality of life, whether that means accessing vital City services, finding a job, furthering their education, starting their own business or getting help staying in their homes.

For just about any important need you have, the City of Detroit has a program or an office that can help. In fact, many of these programs are ones you won't be able to find in other cities, either locally or nationally. Until now, finding information on a program – when you need it most – hasn't been easy. So, for the first time, we've created this resource guide to help you identify and connect with the programs that best suits your current needs.

Some of the examples you'll find inside include:

- Job training and placement through Detroit at Work.
- Free college tuition through the Detroit Promise.
- Neighborhood police officers and other public safety initiatives.
- Programs for small businesses, such as Motor City Match and the Entrepreneurs of Color Fund.
- Foreclosure prevention and tax assistance.
- Neighborhood programs and resources.

Neighborhood by neighborhood, Detroit is coming back. Whether you've been a Detroiters for 50 years or 50 days, we want you to find what you need, right here in Detroit.

Mike Duggan, Mayor

After-School Recreation Program

The summer recreation program was expanded to include after-school recreation activities.

Detroit youth ages 6-13 can participate in a range of activities including athletic and educational activities, chess and other board games. The program is offered at a select number of schools across the city during the school year, with times and days varying by school. The program, a partnership between the City of Detroit and the Detroit Public Schools Community District, is open to Detroit residents only.

For more information, call 313-224-1100 or go to www.detroitmi.gov/Recreation.

Parents can take advantage of after school recreation programs at nine Detroit public schools.

Meals on Wheels

Offering nutritious meals for homebound seniors and people with disabilities, Meals on Wheels provides either daily hot meals during weekdays or five frozen meals once a week. There are also liquid nutrition options for people unable to eat solid foods and who have a prescription from their doctor.

The program is available for those 60 and older, unable to leave home without assistance and unable to prepare meals for themselves.

Contact the Detroit Area Agency on Aging/Detroit Meals on Aging at 313-446-4444 or go to [www.detroit seniorsolution.org/meals-wheels-mow](http://www.detroit seniorsolution.org/meals-wheels-mow).

Housing Resources

There are a number of ways to find out what sorts of housing assistance is available throughout Detroit, including senior apartments, foreclosure prevention and subsidized housing for income-eligible seniors.

Here are agencies that can help:

- Michigan State Housing Development Authority: 313-456-3540 or www.michigan.gov/mshda.
- Detroit Area Agency on Aging: 313-446-4444 or www.detroitseiorsolution.org.

Call 313-224-6380 or go to www.detroitmi.gov/HRD.

Senior Transit

The Detroit Department of Transportation offers reduced fares for seniors 65 or older. In addition to regular bus service, DDOT offers MetroLift, a paratransit service for people with physical limitations who are unable to access regular buses without assistance or limited in ability to walk.

For more information on DDOT fixed bus routes or MetroLift, go to www.detroitmi.gov/ddot or call 313-933-1300.

Neighborhood Resources

Department of Neighborhoods

The Department of Neighborhoods (DON) provides a direct link between the City of Detroit and block clubs, community groups, business owners, faith and school leaders and everyday residents. The 14-member team includes a district manager and deputy district manager in each City Council district.

Their top responsibility is fighting blight and rebuilding and strengthening neighborhoods. The managers directly engage thousands of residents and volunteers in both major initiatives like Motor City Makeover, Angels' Night and tax foreclosure prevention and smaller efforts, such as vacant lot clean-ups and house board-ups. District managers help residents form block clubs and community associations; drive community engagement on neighborhood planning projects and other initiatives; resolve citizens' complaints; and educate residents on a broad range of City programs and policies.

The Mayor's Department of Neighborhoods has one District Manager and a Deputy District Manager for every City Council district to help residents resolve neighborhood issues.

Forming a block club

The first step in forming a block club is to get started. Start by giving the group a name, determine the boundaries and register with the Department of Neighborhoods manager for your City Council district.

After deciding on a meeting location, date and time, invite your neighbors, elected officials, nearby businesses and others. For the first meeting, determine the main focus, prepare an agenda and allow for feedback. Create goals and action items, determine how to achieve the goals and then delegate roles and responsibilities to accomplish the goals.

Next, determine a regular meeting date and time. Then meet regularly with your group and hold each other accountable.

For assistance in forming a block club, contact your District Manager.

TheNeighborhoods.org

The City of Detroit's newest website is www.theneighborhoods.org, dedicated to telling the stories of Detroit and its 200-plus neighborhoods. Along with cable Channel 21, the website highlights Detroiters who have persevered and stayed, shows the spirit of each City Council district through pictures and videos, and promotes events and activities that occur across the city to paint a more complete picture of the real Detroit.

The multi-media site consists of a wide variety of original content and useful data and information.

Yard waste, bulk collection and recycling

Bulk items include: furniture, mattresses, appliances, hot water tanks, carpeting, and large toys. Smaller items (clothing, toys, lamps, etc.) should be placed in plastic bags or boxes. Carpeting should be rolled in bundles of no more than 4 feet and tied.

Households are limited to one cubic yard, which is about the size of a couch, stove or refrigerator.

Bulk items will be collected on the household's scheduled refuse collection day every other week.

Yard waste includes grass clippings, leaves, shrubs and twigs. Yard waste should be placed in paper, biodegradable lawn/yard bags or 32-gallon reusable plastic or metal containers marked "Yard Waste Only" that weigh no more than 60 pounds. There is no limit on the amount of yard waste collected if properly packaged.

Yard waste collection is every other week on a household's scheduled collection day from early April to mid-December.

Recycling: The recycling program is open to residents in single-family homes or in a housing structure with up to 4 units. The program is voluntary, and residents must opt-in.

Recyclable items include: paper, boxes, plastics (#1-7), metals and glass. Recycling materials should be placed in the designated container at the curb and will be collected every other week on the scheduled collection day.

The Detroit Department of Neighborhoods helps residents form block clubs and community organizations across the city. There are nearly 500 such organizations registered with the Department.

Residents can get a free recycling container by:

- Going to www.detroitmi.gov/publicworks and taking the recycling quiz.
- Attending a recycling workshop. Contact Zero Waste Detroit 313-986-2990 or Green Living Science 313-871-4000, extension 3.

Containers also may be purchased for $25 through the solid waste provider for your area.

If you are unsure about your collection dates or have questions, contact:

- Detroit's east and southwest areas: GFL, 844-464-3587.
- Detroit's west and northwest areas: Advanced Disposal, 844-233-8764
- DPW Solid Waste Division: 313-876-0049

Information is online at www.detroitmi.gov/PublicWorks.

Illegal Dumping

The Department of Public Works Solid Waste Division assists in clearing away illegal dumping and solicits the help of residents in identifying illegal dumpers.

Residents should use the Improve Detroit app to report illegal dump locations and if they see illegal dumping in progress. The information provided should include: time, date, and location of occurrence; vehicle description; and a license plate number, if possible.

Residents can either download the Improve Detroit app from the Apple App Store or Google Play. Issues also can be reported online at www.detroitmi.gov/How-Do-I-Mobile-Apps/ImproveDetroit.

Volunteer through Serve Detroit

Serve Detroit is an initiative dedicated to promoting service and volunteerism in the city of Detroit. Serve Detroit connects service opportunities with willing and dedicated volunteers, whether residents, community leaders and nonprofit and corporate entities. Through civic engagement, the mission of Serve Detroit is to build stronger neighborhoods and more active communities.

For additional information, go to www.servedetroit.org or email neblettc@detroitmi.gov.

Improve Detroit app

For reporting running water, potholes, damaged street signs, and other issues, the Improve Detroit mobile app makes reporting a neighborhood problem to city government easier than ever.

This app uses a person's location and gives a menu of common quality-of-life conditions to choose from in the service request. Residents can upload a photo and provide comments. The user also will receive status updates.

Residents can download the Improve Detroit App from the Apple App Store or Google Play. Issues also may be reported online at www.detroitmi.gov/How-Do-I-Mobile-Apps/ImproveDetroit.

The City removes more than 600 tons of illegally dumped material each week.

BSEED District Inspectors

One inspector from the Detroit Buildings, Safety Engineering and Environmental Department is assigned to a City Council district working closely with Department of Neighborhoods managers.

The inspectors focus on the condition of homes, apartments and commercial buildings to ensure they are up to City code. Specifically, inspectors address concerns such as improper storage of cars, cleanliness of a store, and dangerous buildings.

Public Safety

Community Emergency Response Team

The CERT program educates individuals about disaster preparedness and trains them in basic disaster response skills, such as fire safety, light search and rescue, team organization and disaster medical operations. Once trained, CERT members can assist others in their neighborhood or workplace following an event when professional responders are not immediately available to help.

To train and/or volunteer with the CERT program, contact Homeland Security and Emergency Management at 313-596-2590.

Project Green Light

In its first two years, the City of Detroit's innovated program to target crimes at gas stations, party stores and other locations has signed up nearly 250 businesses.

Participating businesses agree to install Project Green Light cameras and signage. The cameras provide live video feeds to the Detroit Police Department's Real Time Crime Center where the department can monitor crimes as they happen and respond quickly. Since its launch in January 2016, carjackings have decreased citywide more than 40%.

Greektown became the first business corridor to join Project Green Light.
